

Divided World

Your task is to create a presentation showing the difference in the standard of living between a developed and a developing country.

You should choose one 'Developed' and one 'Developing' country from this list
(You can ask me if you'd like to use a different one):

Developed	Developing
New Zealand	Bangladesh
Canada	Kenya
Japan	Afghanistan
United States	Mali
Sweden	Zimbabwe
France	Nigeria
Switzerland	Cambodia

Your presentation should:

- have a title slide
- have a separate slide for at least 6 of the categories below
- have a statistic on each slide for both countries written in plain language
- include two good images per slide to show contrast between the countries

Categories: (Choose at least 6)

Life Expectancy (Life Expectancy)	Family size (Fertility Rate)	Money (GDP per capita)
Health (infant mortality)	Education (Literacy Rate)	Environment (access to water)
Disease (HIV/AIDS rates)	Transport (vehicles per person)	Energy (electricity per person)

Finding Information:

The words in brackets are good statistics for measuring each category.

The best way to gather your information is to type into Google: "list of countries" and then type the statistic you are investigating. Then click into the first link that comes up. This should give you a list of all the countries and their ranking.

For example, if comparing Education, you would type "list of countries literacy rate", and follow the best link that compare the literacy rate of the world's countries.